personal

I have 5 years of experience in teaching Spanish and English to students. In relation to my experience as Spanish teacher, I worked as a Spanish tutor in the department of Modern Languages at the University of Aberystwyth in Wales. There, I was instructing different groups of students and different levels (beginners, intermediate and advanced) and ages (young people and adults), as well as I was in charge of the design of the four assignments required (writing, reading, listening and speaking).

Regarding my English teaching experience, I have been working in different schools with children as a Primary English teacher on a part-the basis, as well as in Secondary schools as a teacher-in-training program.

In addition, I have a C2 English level, which makes me proficient in English communication skills, French B2 level and C1 Valencian. Furthermore, I hold a university degree in English studies, a Master's degree in education, and a Certification to teach Valencian Language (Capacitación) and English language.

I am creative, original, I feel passion about languages and teaching, and I love to create my own innovative teaching materials for different levels I am teaching. I am a flexible person who loves working both collaboratively and independently when the situation requires.

All these teaching experiences have given me valuable practical experience of being responsible for a class and therefore, I am confident that I have all the skills required and experience to successfully fill the role in your language school.

I hope my CV is of interest to you and do not hesitate to contact me to discuss my qualifications or teaching experience further. I can be reached by email at robertosanchez@gmail.com.

Thank you for your time and consideration and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,
